

The serpent god's priestesses

NEW!!!

The novel is based on a true story. It takes place in some isolated villages in the Indonesian archipelago where the human beings are tyrannized by the gods and the spirits of the forest. Ancient tribal rituals still survive. Every human law is dominated by gods, nature and animals. When the Serpent God is furious, it asks for a human sacrifice. So the Priestesses of the temple must to present themselves before him. They must to avoid its attacks to survive, otherwise they will die. If the villagers dare to violate these laws, the gods will trigger disasters. In these isolated villages everybody is resigned to their fate.
